

SOLUTIONS FOR PRIVATE MARKETS

Increase operational efficiency and drive growth with innovative technology and services

THE CHALLENGES

The future of private markets is here

Firms across private markets have a wide variety of challenges to overcome, from grappling with incomplete and non-standard portfolio company data in private equity to overcoming the complexities of expanding into credit and rising to meet investor demands for greater transparency and enhanced digital experiences.

With volatile markets and fierce competition, the ability to understand data and market opportunities has never been more critical - or more challenging.

FIS® has a comprehensive suite of technology solutions and expert services that cover the full private markets life cycle – from portfolio management to investor management and fund management – for firms with any strategy, of any size.

We're using technology and expert services to reimagine the way private markets firms solve challenges.

When looking at all of the viable solutions to help us consolidate our systems and streamline, FIS Investran stood out from all of the rest.
