

FIS GLOBAL FX

Formerly Sierra FX

A sophisticated FX System and Customer Portal for FX Trading

Today's foreign exchange environment is fiercely competitive. And that means banks need to deliver the best possible FX payment and trading experience for their corporate clients – as well as managing FX risk effectively and streamlining processing to maintain and grow their client base.

FIS® Global FX (formerly Sierra FX) is a sophisticated FX system and portal that allows your customers, entities and proxies – including branches and web channels – to manage their FX trades.

The Global FX system and customer portal integrates with central treasury, core banking systems and liquidity platforms to reduce risk, streamline communications and increase operational efficiency.

Offer FX payments and trading

Leverage Global FX to offer FX payments and trading directly to customers and branches, with views and permissions configured to each customer based on their level of FX sophistication.

Manage incoming rate feeds and auto-hedging

Use the Global FX rate manager to manage multiple incoming rate feeds and provide your customers with the best rates, while allowing for extremely flexible spread settings. Manage FX risk by a trading desk or immediately auto-hedge in the market for a risk-free FX offering.

Integrate seamlessly with FIS and external systems

Global FX integrates with core banking systems provided by FIS and other providers for balance checks and debit/credits, as well as receiving streaming rates and trades from liquidity providers. Global FX also performs OFAC and AML checks with external systems.
